

ALLA BOOK AWARD

(Revised Guidelines. April 26, 2016)

The Association of Latina and Latino Anthropologists (ALLA) invites submissions for the 2016 ALLA Book Award. The award is for the best book in anthropology published from June 1, 2014 to June 1, 2016 on Latinas/os and their communities. Ethnographic books in other disciplines may be considered. The committee of readers will judge each entry on the basis of the originality of the research, the quality of the writing, and the importance of the topic for understanding the Latina/o experience in the United States, or in transnational communities linked to the U.S.

Authors receiving recognition will be honored at the annual meeting of the American Anthropological Association during the ALLA business meeting in Minnesota and their book will appear on the ALLA website.

To participate in the competition, please send a copy of the book (or a digital version that can be accessed by multiple viewers) and a cover letter with the book title, the author's name and affiliation to each of the four ALLA Book Award Committee members to the addresses below. Questions can be directed to the Committee Chair, Dr. Gilberto Rosas grosas2@illinois.edu.
